Brides-to-Be Look to WannaHavaCookie for Whoop-tastic Wedding Treats

WannaHavaCookie kicks off the spring and summer wedding season at the Wedding Salon bridal show, April 27th at the Manhattan Center Studios

NEW YORK CITY – April 2011 – With spring bridal season in full swing, WannaHavaCookie will be at the Wedding Salon and the New York Wedding Expo and Bridal Show to offer brides-to-be all manner of unique wedding favors crafted by the (P)resident Baker, Marisa Angebrannt, co-owner of the company. The Wedding Salon show will take place on Wednesday, April 27 from 4 to 9 p.m. ET at Manhattan Center Studios (311 West 34th St., New York City).

“Growing up, I always looked forward to joining my family in the kitchen to bake cookies and whoopie pies. After all the recent exposure, it still surprises me that many people don’t know what a whoopie pie is. It’s so rewarding to see grown adults giggle like a kid after trying one of ours for the first time. This is why I do what I do,” said Marisa.

Brides looking for unique favors have been coming to WannaHavaCookie for the past few years to get one-of-a-kind treats for their special day. According to Marisa, “We have had such a fabulous response from bridal parties around our treats. One bride even told us how members of the wedding party were taking extras home and freezing them so they could continue to enjoy them long after the day was over.”

There is an enormous selection of whoopie pies and cookies available online at www.wannahavacookie.com, including traditional chocolate whoopie pies with vanilla, peanut butter, mint or chocolate buttercream, vanilla whoopie pies with chocolate or mint filling, and their best-selling red velvet whoopie pies with vanilla, chocolate or raspberry buttercream.

Every treat is hand-crafted by Marisa and her team. “These recipes are the culmination of simple flavors and fun combinations. I love to integrate childhood comforts with a modern sensibility. Our promise is to deliver all the taste and enjoyment you would expect from homemade treats through individually wrapped (and for brides, customized packaging), moderately sized portions that won’t break your diet. We encourage everyone to snack with a smile.”

WannaHavaCookie favorites include twists on familiar cookies, such as: Linzer Torte bars, modeled after the classic Viennese raspberry cookie; Chocolate Chip cookies with both milk and dark Ghirardelli chocolate chips; and a signature ToffeeMills cookie combining toffee bits with a shot of genuine Bushmills Irish whiskey.
